

Colecția In Honorem/In Honorem Series

In Honorem focuses on the professors from Arad who have served the chairs of Orthodox Theology within the University. This series represents not only an act of homage to those who have responsibly assumed the tasks of Theology in the University during the difficult years following the fall of communism, but also a reflection of the development of theological education in Arad within the new Romanian academic context. At the same time, In Honorem will mark a moment of fulfillment for the Faculty of Orthodox Theology by including, in the gallery of Arad's theological education, distinguished professors with significant contributions to the development of theological disciplines—contributions that have, over the years, been highly appreciated and well received within the academic community.
